Hi Reva,

Thank you for reaching back out and I sincerely apologize for not following up after returning from my trip. At the moment, we are in the process of revamping the NCP designation that was offered by Elizabeth Mooreland and are not renewing the NCP at this time. However, the good news is the designation is still valid and we are planning to offer certifications again soon! I am hoping to have confirmed dates by the end of Q1, if the new designation isn't already available at that time.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns. Also, I've added you to our emailing list for tax credit related information so that you don't miss any updates coming out over the next few months.

Best regards,

Michael Etzkorn
