

Based on guidance from our legal counsel, we are not pursuing acquisition credits as part of this transaction. As a result, there is no requirement for us to submit an identity of interest opinion letter, since such documentation is only necessary when acquisition credits are being claimed.